PISCATORIAL PATTERN

About Those Who Try To Outwit The Finny Frits In Lake Okechobee and Other South Florida Fishing Spots

It begins to look like the boys who have always brought in the big ones are laying down on the job. To date no outstanding catches have been registered at any of the stores conducting fishing contests. Dave Cunningham still leads at Denton's store with a bass that weighed nine pounds and seven ounces. Only a few catches remain for some of the piscatorial artists to outdo Dave.

S. G. Burns, phosphate electrician won the weekly prize at Denton's last week. He entered a bass that weighed only two pounds and twelve ounces. After the management of Denton's store displayed the fish the "boys" targeted Burns so much that he hasn't been seen around the store lately. They thought it a crime to take such a small fish from the waters of Lake Okechobee. ANYWAY, Burns is the winner of a new plug whenever he shows up to claim it.

T. E. Laffey, Jr. finally broke into the winners column this week by snatching a 4 pound, 12 ounce black bass from the lake last Sunday. It is the largest fish secured to date in this week's contest at Betzner's.

T. E. Strickland, team fish, won the weekly prize in Betzner's contest last week by entering a 5 pound, 12 ounce specimen caught near Lakeland.

"Spud" Murphy, the able tomorrow of R. B. Baskin, Henderson Carroll, C. Carter, Clifford Mitchell, John Lench and Harper Clark, who have been fishing at Denton's store, have won the weekly prize in the contest. So lake will be mired in mud.

John Kirk, county law enforcement officer, tripped out into the lake region of South Florida this week in search of lakes containing fish. He is reported to be trying them all for some good bait.

John's extensive piscatorial past has brought him through the fishing spots of this section. A number of people are expected to ask John for a complete book on the matter. On the end, he will ask them to produce evidence to substantiate his statements.

They're telling this one this week. Old Man Weeks, who is a tough old soul at times, took out in his outdoor affair for an afternoon of quiet fishing and contemplation. Most contemplation. Then he baited the hook in the usual manner and awaited results with bated breath. It struck.
